Property Description

Skip the uncertainty of buying land and building from scratch. This is a fully realized hospitality concept already in operation, offering immediate income potential in one of Costa Rica's most sought-after beach markets. Pierre & Colors Tamarindo is not a conventional rental, it's a curated guest experience built around art, color, and local craftsmanship. The property was conceived as a cohesive visual and sensory environment, where each unit carries its own personality while remaining aligned with the overall design language. Custom-made furnishings, integrated features, and locally sourced materials define the interiors. The property consists of nine guest accommodations arranged across a strategically positioned corner parcel within walking distance of Tamarindo Beach. Its adjacency to a protected finca creates a rare combination: open, green views and a sense of seclusion, without sacrificing proximity to restaurants, shops, and daily conveniences.
