Property Description

Escape to a private retreat where modern comfort meets complete sustainability. Set on over 5 hectares (12.5 acres) of lush countryside in Costa Rica's renowned Blue Zone, just south of Samara and close to several stunning beaches, this extraordinary 2-bedroom, 3-bathroom estate offers an exceptional blend of refined living, complete privacy, and true energy independence. Designed for discerning buyers seeking both luxury and self-sufficiency, the estate is powered by a professionally engineered off-grid solar energy system that delivers dependable performance throughout the year. Premium inverter and charge control technology, an integrated battery storage bank, and a Honda backup generator ensure uninterrupted comfort while allowing residents to enjoy the freedom of a fully independent lifestyle. The residence has been thoughtfully conceived as a collection of three interconnected spaces linked by covered walkways, creating a seamless relationship between architecture and landscape.
