With 300 meters (1,000 feet) of street frontage along a public asphalted road, this lot offers unmatched accessibility and flexibility for construction projects. While subdivision is not permitted, the property's size and layout provide ample possibilities for a custom-designed estate. The lot is very well maintained, featuring flat and gently sloping sections that open to breathtaking views. A registered and functional private water well is already in place, and electricity is available at the property line. This makes development straightforward and efficient.
